ABSTRACT

The concept of al-ḥakimiyyah and the proposed means of its establishment in the Muslim nations have been an interesting topic of many contemporary researchers. The topic is one of the contemporary and problematic theories due to its connection with global peace and security. The concept has been widely and globally adopted by many radical Islamic groups, who are responsible for many barbaric and unforgivable attacks that have claimed the lives of many innocents around the world. Abū ‘Alā Mawdūdī who was the pioneer of the term, and Sayyid Quṭb who promoted it, are believed to be responsible for the spread of the idea. The concept of al-ḥākimiyyah and the means of its establishment have been the main theory around which the whole discourses of Mawdūdī and Sayyid Quṭb revolved. Thus, both of them are commonly described as the top among the most contemporary controversial and influential radical Islamist thinkers and leading ideologues of al-ḥākimiyyah, who have played both formative and theoretical roles in the contemporary radical Islamic movements. Considering the claims that accuse Mawdūdī’s and Sayyid Quṭb’s theory of al-ḥakimiyyah of being responsible for the global crisis caused by the radical Islamic movements, and the unrests that resulted from uprising against the ruling authorities in Islamic countries, thorough investigation and fair assessment are needful to confirm or debunk the claim. Therefore, this research attempts to analyze the extent to which Mawdūdī’s and Sayyid Quṭb’s concepts of al-ḥākimiyyah divergent from or convergent with the correct teaching of Islam. The research is expected to contribute towards the ideal way of dealing with the contemporary systems of government in various Muslim nations and render a kind of guidance to the adopters of the violent approach towards their governments. In an attempt to carry out this task, the researcher applies a qualitative method that is based on library research. The current study presents Mawdūdī’s and Sayyid Quṭb’s concept of al-ḥakimiyyah from the original sources and then critically analyzed and assessed. Thus, after presenting a considerable account on their intellectual discourses on the concept of al-ḥakimiyyah and their approaches towards the establishment of the concept, it is found that their concept of al-ḥakimiyyah is in line with the correct teachings of Islam, but enough opportunity is not given to contemplate and digest the idea. However, there are some criticisms, which are not directly affecting their main concept of al-ḥākimiyyah, but in one way or the other affecting their systematic and strategic approaches. Finally, Mawdūdī and Sayyid Quṭb are believed to have been misunderstood by many contemporary Islamic movements who ascribed themselves to their school of thought.

مفهوم الحاكمية والوسائل المقترحة لتأسيسه في الدول الإسلامية يُعدّ من أهم الموضوعات التي حُظيتْ باهتمام كثير من الباحثين المعاصرين. ويُعتبر الموضوع من أحد الموضوعات المعاصرة ذات الإشكالية، لكونه مرتبطاً بالسلام والأمن العالميين. وقد تمّ تبيّن هذا المفهوم على نطاق واسع وعالمي من قبل كثير من الجماعات الإسلامية المتطرفة المسؤولة عن العديد من الهجمات البربرية التي لا تُغتفر في جميع أنحاء العالم، والتي سقط العديد من الأبرياء ضحايا لها. ويعتقد بأن أبا علاء مودودي الذي ابتكر الفكرة وسيد قطب الذي طوّر الفكرة مسؤولان عن انتشار هذه الفكرة. وقد كان مفهوم الحاكمية ووسيلة إنشائها محاوراً أساسية التي دارت حولها معظم كتابات مودودي وسيد قطب. لذا، يوصف كلاهما دائماً بأكبر شخصين تأثيراً وإثارة للجدل من بين المفكرين الإسلاميين الراديكاليين المعاصرين، ومُنظّرَيْن بارزين لفكرة الحاكمية، الذين قد لعبا أدواراً تكوينية ونظرية في الحركات الإسلامية الراديكالية المعاصرة. وبالنظر إلى الادعاءات التي تتهم نظرية الحاكمية عند مودودي وسيد قطب بالمسؤولية عن الأزمة العالمية للحركات الإسلامية الراديكالية والاضطرابات التي نتجت عن الانتفاضة ضد السلطات الحاكمة في الدول الإسلامية، فأصبح التحقيق الشامل والتقييم العادل ضرورياً لتأكيد أو فضح هذه الادعاءات. لذا، يحاول هذا البحث دراسة مدى الاختلاف والتوافق بين مفاهيم الحاكمية عند مودودي وسيد قطب والتعاليم الإسلامية الصحيحة. فمن المتوقع أن يساهم هذا البحث في الطريقة المثالية للتعامل مع أنظمة الحكم المعاصرة في مختلف الدول الإسلامية وتقديم نوع من التوجيه لمتبني المنهج غير سلمي تجاه حكومتهم. وفي محاولة للقيام بهذه المهمة، استخدم الباحث المنهج النوعي باعتماده على المكتبات في جمع المعلومات. وتعرض الدراسة الحالية مفهوم الحاكمية عند مودودي وسيد قطب من المصادر الأصلية ثم يتم تحليله وتقييمه بأسلوب نقدي. وبعد تقديم الاعتبار الكافي لتراثهما الفكري حول مفهوم الحاكمية ومناهجها في تأسيس المفهوم، تبين أن مفهوماً عن الحاكمية يتوافق مع التعاليم الإسلامية الصحيحة، ولكن

لم يتم إعطاء فرصة كافية للتفكير واستيعاب الفكرة. ومع ذلك، هناك بعض الانتقادات التي لا تؤثر بشكل مباشر على مفهومهم الأساسي للحاكمية، ولكنها تؤثر بطريقة أو بأخرى على المنهجية والاستراتيجية المتبعة في عرض الأفكار. وفي النهاية، يُعتقد أن العديد من الحركات الإسلامية المعاصرة التي تنسب نفسها إلى مدارس مودودي وسيد قطب قد أساءت فهمهما.

DEDICATION

I sincerely dedicate this dissertation to my beloved father and mother Alhaji Issah Obalowu, and Alhaja Shifau Obalowu, who are the source of my existence in this life and the root of all that I have become today.

To my aunt Alhaja Thuwaybah, for her care and proper upbringing which led to today's achievement. May Allah forgive her shortcomings and reward her with al-Jannah.

To my siblings who have been taken care of our parents throughout my long-time journey of searching for knowledge.

To my wife: Mrs Yusuf Basirat Bolanle and my children: Habeeburrahman, Issah, Rodiyah and Yusuf who have been experiencing a tough time and bearing the hardship with me for a long time ago. They have been deprived of many of their rights due to my studentship and tight schedules. May Allah reward you all.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

All praises are due to Almighty Allah in the beginning and the end in such a way that He is should be praised. May the peace and blessing of Allah be upon the noble Prophet Muḥammad, his companions, his family and upon any believer who follows their footsteps till the day of resurrection.

First and foremost, my special gratitude and appreciation go to my able and amiable supervisor, Associate Professor Dr. Adibah Bint Abdul Rahim, for her detailed comments, beneficial suggestions, inspiring interrogations, and vigorous supervision which have significantly improved this thesis to this level. I am wholeheartedly indebted to express my gratefulness for her support from the onset of preparing the research proposal till the end of the research, regardless of her various commitments and tight schedules. I have nothing to compensate her with for this wonderful and amazing support, except to say jazāki Allah khayrah (may Allah reward you).

Likewise, my deep and warm appreciation also goes to my co-supervisor, Assistant Professor Dr. Ismail Mamat for his support, kindness, warm-heartedness, and encouragement which have energetically and actively contributed to the success of the task. May he not be deprived of his reward.

My special acknowledgement also goes to International Islamic University Malaysia (IIUM) and all its able Professors and Doctors, especially in the department of Usūl al-Dīn and Comparative Religion, Kulliyyah of Islamic Revealed Knowledge and Human Sciences. May Allah increase you all in knowledge and reward you abundantly.

I would also like to show my special appreciation to my Qur'an teachers, may Allah forgive them, and my early Arabic and Islamic teacher Shaykh Ishāq bin Bukhārī Asalapa. May Allah rectify his affairs and reward him abundantly. He is a part of this success.

My appreciation also goes to Kamal School of Arabic and Islamic Studies in Ilorin Kwara State of Nigeria and all the teaching staff of the institution, especially, Alhaji Waliyyullah Alase, Alhaji 'Aliy Agarawu and Alhaji Abdur-Razaq Ajirerin and others. I pray to Almighty Allah to forgive the founder of the institution al-Shaykh Abdur-Rahim Aminullah Oniwasi Agbaye all his shortcomings and reward him with the highest paradise.

My profound gratitude as well goes to Al-Azhar University the minaret of knowledge. I pray to Almighty Allah to protect the institution and its Shuyūkh as well as all other scholars of Islam that I have benefited from their knowledge. Likewise, I pray for the entire land of al-Kinānah (Misr).

Likewise, I thank all those who contribute in one way or the other to the success of this great achievement, whether in Egypt or Malaysia. Allah knows everyone. I pray to Him to give everyone good rewards in this world and hereafter.

Finally, I am indebted to thank my father Alhaji Issah Obalowu, my mother Alhaja Shifau Obalowu, my aunt Alhaja Thuwaybah and my siblings, for their support and prayer. Indeed, no amount of words can express my profound gratitude and appreciation of my wife's efforts and supports towards the success of this task. she has been a good wife ever since the first day I knew her. I pray to Almighty Allah to reward her immensely and give me the opportunity to compensate her for outstanding supports and unique efforts towards my academic achievement and nurturing of our children. Likewise, I thank my children for their endurance, understanding and love. May Allah bless every one of us.

Once again, all the glory and praise are due to Allah the Almighty for His endless and countless grace and favour bestowed upon us, one of which is the successful accomplishment of this great work.

CHAPTER ONE

GENERAL INTRODUCTION

1.1 INTRODUCTION

The notion of al-ḥākimiyyah (Sovereignty) and the struggle towards its establishment in the entire Muslim nations, and even in the whole universe, are believed to be one of the fundamental pillars upon which the contemporary Islamic movements stand and the main pivot around which their discourses revolve. Moreover, the idea is thought to have been the chief instigator that triggers contemporary Islamists' terrorism and their attacks against society.

Abu 'Alā Mawdūdī who was the founder of al-Jamā'ah al-Islamiyyah (Islamic Group) in Pakistan, the largest Islamic organization in Asia during his time, is believed to have been the pioneer in politicizing Islam. Besides, the modern conceptualization of the Islamic state is strongly attributed to Mawdūdī. Nevertheless, the traces of the claim are actually evident in Mawdūdī's writings. He proposes the gradual establishment of the Islamic State in a democratic way that will recognize the sovereignty of Allah and establish its entire social and political affairs on the principles of sharī'ah. Ḥakimiyyah Allah has been the main theory around which the whole discourses of Mawdūdī revolved. He is confirmed to be the pioneer and originator of the term, as the exact word is neither mentioned in the Qur'an, nor it used in the Prophetic expression. Sayyid Quṭb as well is believed to have been influenced by Mawdūdī's thoughts. He as well is commonly known as one of the most contemporary controversial and influential radical Islamist thinkers. He is also considered as a leading ideologue of al-ḥākimiyyah, who has played both formative and theoretical roles in the contemporary radical Islamic movements. He is rather considered as the first political theologian of God's sovereignty in the Sunni Islamic space.¹ Despite the past of more than a half of century since the death of Sayyid Quṭb and more than 40 years since the demise of Mawdūdī, the names and the impacts of both revivalists, especially Sayyid Quṭb, continue to be mentioned in parallel with the activities of the contemporary Islamic movements, especially radical ones.

The concept of al-ḥākimiyyah and its other related topics that were developed and discussed by both revivalists are believed to have been chiefly instigated the contemporary religious violence that has been globally carried out by different radical Islamic movements. However, there are different scholarly opinions on the activities of both revivalists between those who see them as the true representatives of Islamic da'wah and sincere revolutionary thinkers who have not been deceived by the revolution of modernity. Some other intellectuals regard their ideas as excess and exaggeration in theorizing without adequate consideration of the real situations of the Muslims. While some others even see both figures as the chief responsibility for the emergence of the contemporary Islamist armed groups and their terrorism against society.² Moreover, the members of the Muslim Brotherhood movement themselves, to which Sayyid Quṭb belonged in the late period of his life, and which is believed to have inspired him, also have different opinions on his approaches; some of them give full support to the ideas, while others oppose him on all or most of his perspectives.

Their theories are broadly spread and widely regarded as one of the most influential theories of Sunni Islamic radical discourse. They are both usually considered as radical theorists who have highly contributed both key concepts and an ontological model to the construction of the contemporary radical Islamic movements. Mawdūdī and Sayyid Quṭb agreed upon the necessity of the revolution against the current political system in the Muslim nations and proposed radical transformation from the present systems to the absolute Islamic system. They proclaimed that the entire world including Muslim nations are leaving in jāhiliyyah (ignorance), since Allah's law is not fully implemented in any place on the surface of the earth. Therefore, Sayyid Quṭb in special and Mawdūdī as well, out of their perceptions on al-ḥākimiyyah, called for the global strive to liberate mankind from being enslaved by the current ruling authorities and restore al-ḥākimiyyah which is the absolute right of Allah that is being snatched and claimed by the political authorities. Sayyid Quṭb argues that one of the main objectives of Islam which is the global liberation of mankind from being enslaved by other men like them through enforcing their own wishes on them, and from being under the servitude of their personal egos to the total submission of man to the sovereignty of Allah the Almighty has been hindered by two major factors. First, al-jāhiliyyah (ignorance) that prevails over the ideas and beliefs of mankind and manifests in their system of life. Thus, the preaching and persuasive approaches should be employed to reform those ideas and beliefs. Second, the current political systems that prevent people from reforming their ideas and beliefs, but rather force them to obey their erroneous ways and make them serve human lords instead of Almighty Allah. Hence, physical power and jihad must be used to confront and abolish those jahiliyyah systems and their authorities.

Mawdūdī and Sayyid Qutb claim that it is high time to revive Islamic social and political systems which are the only answer to the restoration of those missed vital Islamic values which are not only necessary for the healthy development and real progress of the nations but also important for the liberation of man from political, economic and social oppression. Likewise, they are significant for man's freedom from the racial and discriminative problems, and essential for the provision of a harmonious, practicable, positive, and constructive way of life that corresponds with the human instinct and the nature of the universe. Whereas the Western and other contemporary social and political systems have failed to present any healthy values for the guidance, spiritual tranquillity, and everlasting happiness of mankind. So, such systems possess nothing to enable them to rule the world or to justify their continuity. Thus, in order to achieve the mission and establish al-ḥakimiyyah in the universe, Sayyid Qutb and Mawdūdī propose some radical approaches, among which many are problematic and seem infeasible. This research, therefore, intends to explore their concept of al-ḥakimiyyah and their approaches towards its establishment, to figure out the extent of the proximity between their theories and the correct teachings of Islam.

1.2 STATEMENT OF THE PROBLEM

The concept and the principle of al-ḥākimiyyah advocated by some contemporary Muslim scholars, particularly Abu 'Alā Mawdūdī and Sayyid Qutb are chiefly believed to be the primary source of what is globally known as the Islamic radicalism and its terrorism against the society. The principle has been widely adopted by many radical and Jihadist groups who are connected with Islam in one way or the other. However, the ideology of al-ḥākimiyyah and the efforts towards its establishment across the globe have been one of the main fundamental pillars upon which the contemporary Islamic movements stand. Many terrorist attacks that are believed to be instigated and motivated by the idea of al-ḥākimiyyah have been carried out within and outside the Muslim nations, which have globally tarnished the image of Islam in the view of non-Muslims and common Muslims as well. The approach seems to have been proven wrong and failed inside and outside the Muslim nations, particularly during what is known as “Arab Spring”. This approach does not achieve anything but leads to more destruction of the nations, dispersion of the families, tyranny, and oppression of the governments. Considering the claims that affirm the impact and role of Mawdūdī’s and Sayyid Qutb’s thoughts, especially their concept of al-ḥākimiyyah, on the event of “Arab Spring” and other radical Islamist groups’ attacks, a thorough investigation needs to be done on the extent of the conformity and correspondence between Mawdūdī’s and Sayyid Qutb’s perspectives on al-ḥākimiyyah and the principles of Islam in one hand, and the extent of the genuineness of the claim in the other. Therefore, this research attempts to analyze the extent to which Mawdūdī’s and Sayyid Qutb’s approaches and concepts of al-ḥākimiyyah, which are considered as the primary source of the contemporary Islamic terrorism, divergent from or convergent with the principles of Islam.

1.3 RESEARCH QUESTIONS

In the light of the problem stated above, this research will attempt to answer the following questions:

1. How is the concept of al-ḥākimiyyah defined in the discourse of the Abu ‘Alā Mawdūdī and Sayyid Quṭb?
2. To what extent do the views of Abu ‘Alā Mawdūdī and Sayyid Quṭb on the concept of al-ḥākimiyyah conform with the principles of Islam; are their approaches divergent from or convergent with the principles of Islam, and what is the extent of the feasibility of the approach?
3. How does the concept of al-ḥākimiyyah advocated by Abu ‘Alā Mawdūdī and Sayyid Quṭb influence the contemporary Islamic movements, especially radical ones?
4. What are the recommended Islamic principles and approaches towards the establishment of al-ḥākimiyyah and its application in the social order?

1.4 RESEARCH OBJECTIVES

This study aims at ascertaining the concept of al-ḥākimiyyah in the discourse of Abu ‘Alā Mawdūdī and Sayyid Quṭb. Hence, the research will attempt to achieve the following objectives:

1. To explore the definition and concept of al-ḥākimiyyah in the discourse of Abu ‘Alā Mawdūdī and Sayyid Quṭb.
2. To discuss the extent of conformity between the views of Abu ‘Alā Mawdūdī and Sayyid Quṭb on the concept of al-ḥākimiyyah and the principles of Islam, and to examine the convergence and divergence between their approaches and the teachings of Islam, as well as the feasibility of that approach.

3. To highlight the way through which the concept of al-ḥakimiyyah advocated by Mawdūdī and Sayyid Quṭb influence the contemporary Islamic movements, especially radical ones.
4. To discuss the typical Islamic teachings and approaches towards the establishment of al-ḥakimiyyah and its application in the social order.

1.5 JUSTIFICATION OF THE RESEARCH

Considering the present situation of some Muslim nations in terms of political instability and loss of many souls and properties on the daily basis, which is believed to have been resulted from the uprising against the ruling authorities, and the various terrorist attacks that have been carried out locally and internationally by different radical Islamists groups, all which are believed to have been instigated and masterminded by the concept and approach of some contemporary Islamic scholars towards al-ḥākimiyyah, and calling for the social justice, especially Mawdūdī's and Sayyid Qutb's theories, the evaluative and analytical study of those concepts and approaches of al-ḥākimiyyah in the discourse of Sayyid Quṭb and Mawdūdī are highly needed. After conducting an extensive review of the available literature and examining the writings on the topic concerned, the researcher found that lots of research conducted in this area focus on the analysis of Mawdūdī's and Sayyid Qutb's biography, their contributions on socioeconomic issues, their impact on the contemporary Islamic movements and the threat of their thoughts to the nations. The issues related to the extent of conformity of their notions on the concept of al-ḥākimiyyah with the principles of Islam are partially and briefly discussed by few researchers. However, those studies are very sketchy and do not thoroughly investigate the level of conformity between their views and the principles of Islam. More so, some of those studies are characterized with random conclusions, while some others are questionable. Thus, there is a need for thorough analysis and evaluation of their views and approaches on al-ḥākimiyyah to determine the level of convergence and divergence between the concept and the teachings of Islam. Especially, when both revivalists are considered as the top influential radical Islamist figures who have adopted and subscribed to the idea of al-ḥākimiyyah, and they are commonly known as the leading radical theorists who have highly contributed both key concepts and an ontological model to the construction of the contemporary radical Islamic movements. So, this study will contribute towards the clarification of Sayyid Qutb's and Mawdūdī's concept of al-ḥākimiyyah, the highlight of the extent to which their views are divergent with or convergent from the teachings of Islam, and the uncovering of the level of the feasibility of their approaches in the contemporary time. Hopefully, the study may also serve as a kind of contribution towards the system of dealing with the contemporary systems of government in various Muslim nations and render a kind of guidance to the subscribers and adopters of jihadist and violent approaches towards their government.

1.6 SCOPE OF THE STUDY

There are many issues in the discourse of Abu 'Alā Mawdūdī and Sayyid Qutb which have been raised by them, for the purpose of leading the Ummah to the successful establishment and achievement of al-ḥākimiyyah and social justice on the earth, and for the universal liberation of mankind from the servitude to other men like them, and from the servitude to their personal desires, and also for the total submission of man to the sovereignty of Allah alone. However, al-ḥākimiyyah is the main theme that all their discourses revolve around. Therefore, this study will limit its scope to the analysis and evaluation of the concept of al-ḥākimiyyah in the discourse of Sayyid Qutb and Mawdūdī within the paradigm of the Islamic principles.

1.7 RESEARCH METHODOLOGY

This study applies a qualitative method which is based on library research. Moreover, the analytical, descriptive, critical, and historical approaches will be widely used throughout the study. A descriptive and analytical approach will be used to review the data from Sayyid Qutb's and Mawdūdī's writings and other relevant academic sources. The critical approach will be applied for assessing and criticizing the data, while the historical method will be applied for exploring the evolution and historical background of al-ḥākimiyyah as well as the important aspect of Qutb's and Mawdūdī's life. The primary pattern of this study is chronological in nature. It starts the discussion with the historical background of al-ḥākimiyyah from the onset of Islam till the emergence of the Kharijites. Then, the discussion proceeds by highlighting the historical background and evolution of the contemporary Islamic movements, including the radical ones. The discussion continues with a brief about the important and relevant historical background of Sayyid Qutb and Mawdūdī and then followed by the analysis of their concepts and approaches towards the establishment of al-ḥākimiyyah. Lastly, the critical analysis of their theories and the impact of those theories on the contemporary radical Islamic movements are discussed, together
